HOW TO WIN A WEEKEND IN A EUROPEAN CAPITAL?

Welcome to the Try on the Treaty Internet Game, in which you become a Member of the European Parliament. You vote, you propose your own resolutions, you take part in the works of a chosen political group and parliamentary committee, you respond to questions about Treaty of Lisbon. Every player collects points. A weekend in one of the European capitals is a prize for the best players. The participation in the game is free of charge. How to play?

Step 1 Log in as player of Try on the Treaty Game. Choose a Member State that you would like to represent, a parliamentary committee and a political group that interests you.

Step 2 Have fun. Visit forums and get to know people from other countries.

Step 3 Participate in your committee work – vote for or against proposals of the European Commission or of other players and the Council of European Union positions. Become a Rapporteur of a project if its subject interests you. More in My committee folder.

Step 4 Propose a short document (a resolution) if you find that the European Parliament should take position concerning a particular subject. More in Resolutions folder.

Step 5 Respond to the quiz questions about the treaties, the Lisbon Treaty in particular, which appear from time to time in Quiz questions folder.

Step 6 You can write a complaint to the European Ombudsman, which protect citizens' rights, or a petition to the European Parliament. More in Submitting a complaint and Submitting a petition folders.

Step 7 Do not forget about plenary sessions via chat and about plenary votes. More in Votes and Plenary folders.

Step 8 If you do not win the first phase of the game do not give up! On 2nd November the 2nd phase of the Game starts. All players will start collecting their points from the beginning. The first prize can still be yours!!!
